

The Harmonization between Competition Policy and Industry Policy—the Case of Energy Industry

ABSTRACT

Key Words: Energy Industry 、 Competition Policy 、 Industry Policy 、 Harmonization

The purpose of this study is to discover the presenting and future energy industry policy and competition policy. Besides, we will survey the legislation and implementation of laws and regulations on energy industry in EU, Japan, and Korea. In addition, we are interested the impact of control and subsidy policy to market competition. Finally, we focus on the mechanism operation of harmonization between competition and industry policy.

Therefore, the short-term and long-term suggestions of this study are as follow:

1. The aspect of legislation, the instantly and feasible suggestion is that the chairperson and commissioners of FTC are proposed to the ex ante competition advocacy. In the long-term, the mechanism of compulsory prior consultation and the legislation of government policy valuation act are suggested.
2. The aspect of administration, FTC is proposed to formulate the antimonopoly act guidelines on administrative guidance and disposal directions on renewable energy subsidy in the short-term. Finally, to establish the fair trade policy periodical consultation joint meetings system in the long-term practice program.